DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 18, line 6 and page 24, line 1, the numeral "170a" is used to designate "three enclosed roll holders" and the "outer storage half basket".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoo Kong (U.S. Patent No. 6,422,503) in view of Barnett (U.S. Patent No. 5,305,937).

With respect to Claim 9, Hoo Kong, Figures 1-3, teaches a stand for dispensing a paper product, the stand comprising: a hollow elongate housing 11 configured to be disposed in an upright position, wherein the elongate housing includes: a first end configured to be a top surface when the elongate housing is disposed in the upright position, a second end disposed opposite the first end; a first elongate aperture 30 disposed proximate the first end, wherein the first elongate aperture is configured to dispense the paper product in a vertical direction. Hoo Kong teaches all the elements of the stand except for a web tear plate. However, Barnett, Figure 1, teaches a web tear plate 63 attached proximate to an elongate aperture. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Hoo Kong with a tear plate, as taught by Barnett, for the purpose of facilitating the tearing of the material.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoo Kong in view of Barnett as applied to claim 9 above, and further in view of Harris (U.S. Patent No. 4,124,259).

With respect to Claim 15, Hoo Kong in view of Barnett are advanced above. Hoo Kong in view of Barnett teaches all the elements of the stand except for a mini-table top. However, Harris, Figure 1, teaches a mini-table top configured to removably cover the top surface. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Hoo Kong in view of Barnett with a mini-table top, as taught by Harris, for the purpose of accommodating any items as needed and exemplified by Harris in Figures 1 and 2.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoo Kong in view of Barnett and Harris as applied to claims 9 and 15 above, and further in view of Danzi (U.S. Patent No. 5,301,888).

With respect to Claim 16, Hoo Kong in view of Barnett and Harris are advanced above. Hoo Kong in view of Barnett and Harris teach all the elements of the stand except for the mini-table top configured to dispense another paper product on the mini-table top. However, Danzi, Figure 1, teaches a mini-table top configured to dispense another product. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Hoo Kong in view of Barnett and Harris with a mini-table top configured to dispense another product, as taught by Danzi, for the purpose of eliminating the need to reach within the stand for a roll of paper.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-8 and 18-26 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-8 are allowable over the prior art of record because the prior art of record does not teach or suggest the entire combination of elements of the stand set forth including a hanging roll holder configured to hold the paper product proximate the first elongate aperture, wherein the hanging roll-holder comprises: a base; an arbor attached to a center portion of the base; a brake washer configured to be inserted over the arbor; and a plurality of hanging rods that are each attached to an outer portion of the base and configured to set in one of the plurality of housing rod grooves.

None of the references of the prior art teach or suggest the hanging roll holder as advanced above and such do not provide the necessary motivation, absent applicant's specification, for modifying the stand in the manner required by the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Claims 10-14 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

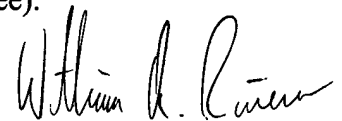

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
